1

Prepare your quilt and mark
the width of the pattern.

In this case 6".

#2

Stitch across first row. Does it fall below the line at any point? You can check it with the channel lock.

Then roll the quilt.
(You can place the needle down at the pin or corner of the pattern if you like and turn it in that position.)

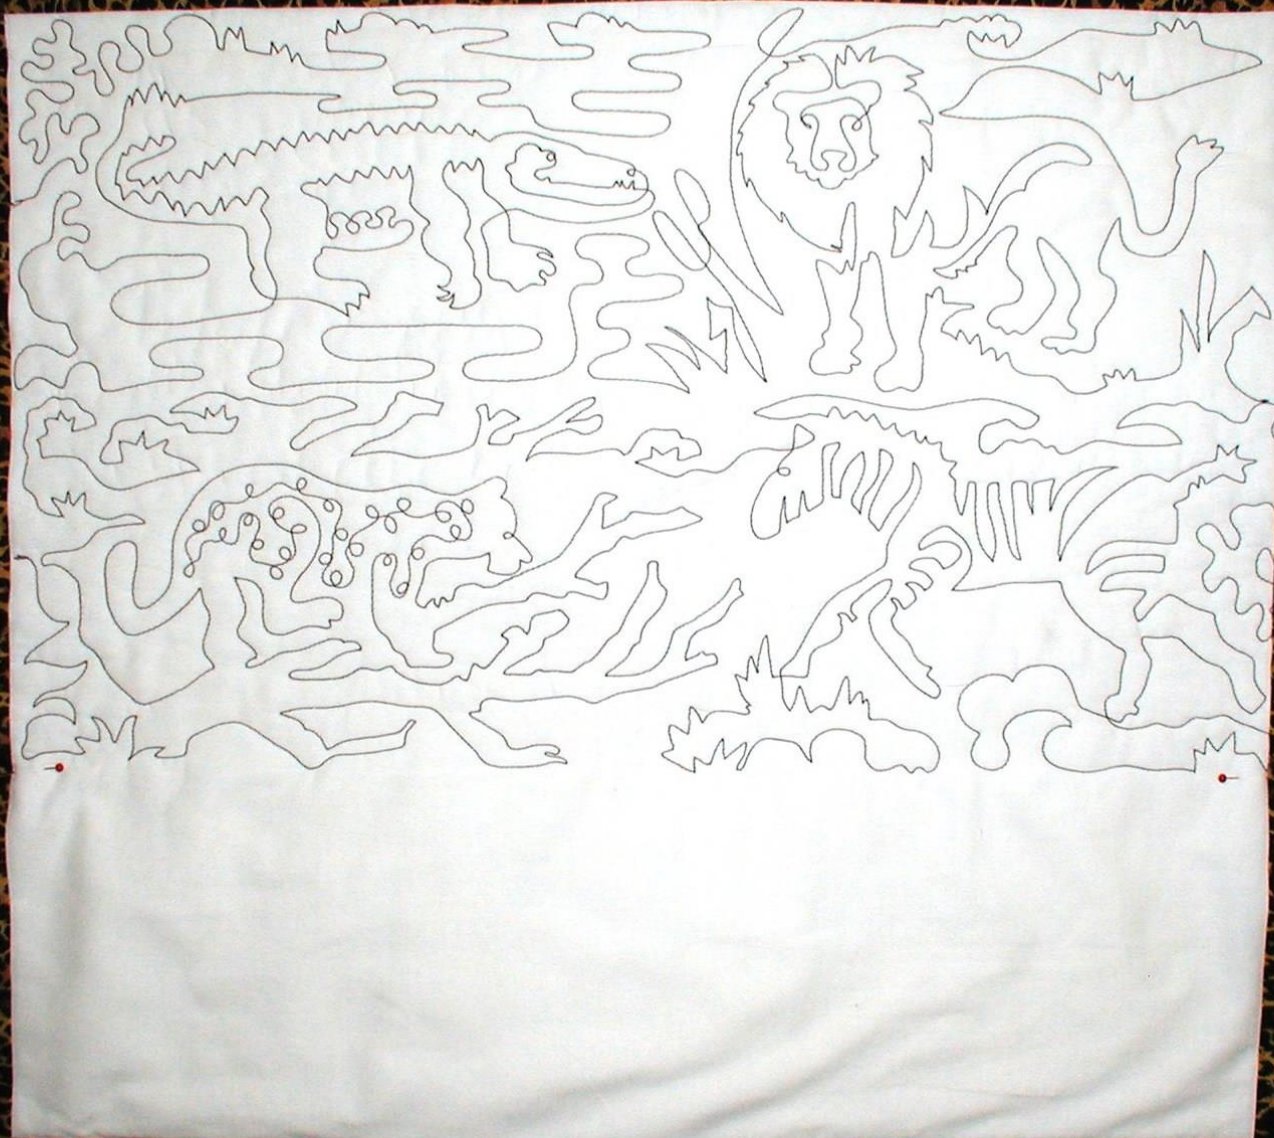

#3

Adjust the laser light to the new
starting point

Stitch across 2nd row.

Use the channel lock
to see if it
falls below
the line.

Then roll as before (Needle down
at corner if desired.)

3

Re-adjust
laser to the correct
starting point.

Stitch across 3rd row.
